Giving Back to the Community during the COVID-19 Pandemic

SUPPORT LOCAL BUSINESSES

Purchasing from local businesses is a great way to support the community. Small Favors, located in The Village, has a great selection of gifts that are perfect for the holidays! Or check out Sweet Little Sheila's Pastry and Cake Shop for some delicious treats! Brown's Family Bookstore is another great local business to support.

DONATE TO A FOOD BANK

If you're looking to donate somewhere, try Eva's Village! They can be contacted via Facebook or Instagram, and offer a variety of volunteer and donation opportunities. Gleaners Food Bank is always accepting donations, if that's more your speed. Or check out Capuchin Soup Kitchen for monetary donations, canned foods, and volunteers!

IN-PERSON VOLUNTEERING

If you're looking to volunteer your time in-person, try Auntie Na's House! They're organization needs volunteers to help package and supply food to those who need it. 555 Community Cleanup is another organization that offers in-person volunteering. It's an arts program that specializes in cleaning up areas of Detroit.

VIRTUAL VOLUNTEERING

Want to volunteer from the safety of your own home? Event Coordinators are needed for the Kids Reading Program in Detroit. Work would include scheduling live readings for children and parents, and schedule is flexible. Or you could knit or crochet lap blankets with Kindred Hospice!
